

Frequently Asked Questions

See Also About FutureWisconsin

Q What are the FUTURE sites and the Future Wisconsin project?

A FutureWisconsin.com, and the Future Wisconsin Project will build, host and promote individual websites for select Wisconsin communities and every county in the state. Each website will feature comprehensive economic data and commercial property listings for each community.

Q Can my community have a FUTURE site and what is the cost?

A YES, and there is no cost to the community. Call 608.334.2174 or email us at Request@FutureWisconsin.com to request a site.

Q Where does the data found on the FUTURE sites come from?

A YOU! Like other networking websites, any user can add FREE - Links, Business Cards, and Commercial Property Listings. We link to existing websites so site selectors can quickly find community, chamber and development webs from a single source. We include free business cards entered by users and associations representing the development community. Our property listings originally came from a variety of sources, but are now maintained by the listing broker. To improve the accuracy of our listings, we have discontinued the practice of using data from other sources except for PropertyDrive.com.

Q How is the project funded?

A Sponsors for each individual site are being sought to offset the cost of development. While some revenue may be shared with the local Chamber or other economic development entity, the sites do not require any financial investment on the part of the community. For comparison you may want to think of us as a sponsor supported brochure or magazine for the community, we are just harder to throw away and are updated constantly.

Q How do other economic development organizations fit into this project?

A We work closely with other economic development organizations and of course link to them. By linking to these organizations we avoid duplicating data. Our goal is to provide the decision maker a single source or portal for data. We hope to provide a unique picture of each individual community.

Q Can I list my properties on a FUTURE site?

A YES, any real estate broker or property owner may add FREE commercial property listings. We also link to the listings on PropertyDrive.com a commercial service and partner in this project. Larger brokers may request a program to automatically upgrade our free listings.

Q What are the "Major Projects" found on FUTURE sites?

A Major Projects include Office, Business, or Tech Parks, Large Retail Centers, New Urban or Mixed Use developments, and Industrial or Manufacturing sites in a community or region. These listings are a small revenue source for the project. The cost is just $ 49 Per Year and includes a listing on several websites. We also plan a book of these projects in cooperation with CIREX. (separate fee for book)

Q Why should I sponsor a FUTURE site?

A Exposure - Exposure - Exposure - the individuals visiting a FUTURE site have only one objective, doing business in a given community. Whether your objective is working with new or expanding businesses or helping promote the community to new employers, a FUTURE sponsorship puts you in the front of the line. In addition the exposure remains fresh forever. What happens to last weeks newspaper add, last months magazine add, or last nights TV commercial?

Q Why did you do this?

A Originally the website was developed for Verona, Wisconsin by alderman Ken Harwood. Other communities saw the website and requested similar sites. Working with communities and brokers the project evolved into a One-Stop Shop for businesses looking at Wisconsin communities for growth or new development. We believe it is the unique characteristic threads of these individual communities that create the fabric that is Future Wisconsin...

...We hope this helped... Ken

All Future Communities and Counties Here